

Annual Benefit Celebrating Women, Art, and Education

Women's Luncheon

Taubman Museum of Art

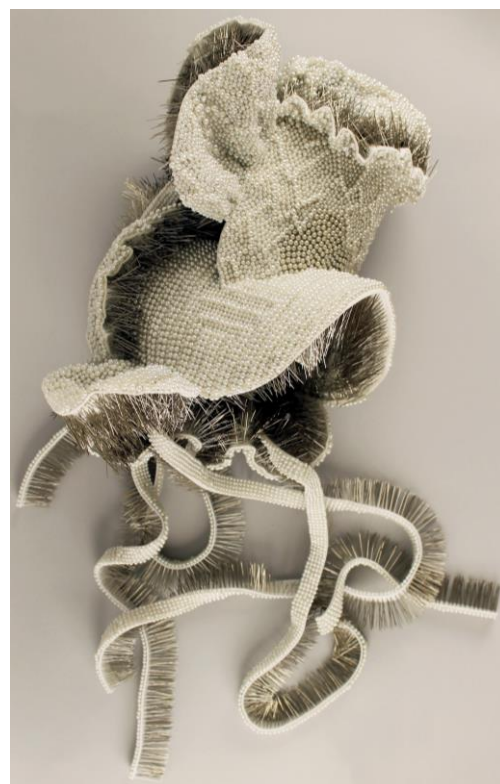

Monday, November 13, 2017, 11:00am - 2pm

Angela Ellsworth, Keynote Speaker

Angela Ellsworth will speak to her sculptures on view in the museum's exhibition Tangled: Fiber Art Now! In homage to the 9 sister-wives of her great grandfather Lorenzo Snow, former prophet and president of the Mormon church, Angela's "bonnet" project recognizes and celebrates women of the community in which she was raised.

Angela's inventive and intricate bonnets crafted from corsage pins are beautiful at first sight, but strikingly dangerous once a closer look is taken. Perhaps most breathtaking are the bonnets' interiors- a threatening array of gleaming steel pinpoints- as terrifying as their exterior is alluring. A powerful story of heritage, community, and family, Angela is sure to leave guests with meaningful message and sense of empowerment.
